

The Audies® Finalists 2007

On June 1, publishers, producers, and narrators gathered in Rockefeller Center's famous Rainbow Room for the Audies® black-tie gala honoring the year's best audiobooks. Jim Dale was master of ceremonies as the Audio Publishers Association (APA) presented winners in 32 categories, including three new categories—Thriller/Suspense, Children's Titles for Ages 12+, and Spanish Language—and this year's special Judges' Award for Politics. One title was also named Audiobook of the Year for its overall impact on the audiobook industry (see right). Below is the complete list of 2007 Audies Finalists.

For a complete list of the 2007 winners of the Audies® with sound clips, visit www.theaudies.com.

The Audiobook of the Year Award recognizes one audiobook for its overall impact on the audio publishing field. The judges' comments below consider marketing and sales as well as narration, packaging, production quality, and the unique contribution each title makes to the world of audiobooks.

INSPIRED BY . . . THE BIBLE EXPERIENCE: NEW TESTAMENT, performed by Angela Bassett, Cuba Gooding, Jr., Samuel L. Jackson, and a Full Cast (Zondervan)

"The Bible Experience is a tribute to innovative marketing. Packed with an impressive cast of over 200 prominent African Americans—including Alfre Woodard, Samuel L. Jackson, Blair Underwood, Denzel Washington, and Angela Bassett—Zondervan didn't stop at letting the talent attract listeners. They conducted a church-driven awareness program, utilized MySpace as a promotional vehicle, and received a wealth of positive press for this superb production."

THIS I BELIEVE, Jay Allison, Dan Gediman [Eds.], read by Bill Gates, Martha Graham, et al. (Audio Renaissance)

"Audio Renaissance's This I Believe captures the ongoing history of the American people. Adapted from the NPR special series, men and women express in their own voices the core beliefs by which they live. Essays from the original Edward R. Murrow radio series from the 1950s—including those spoken by Jackie Robinson, Helen Keller, and Eleanor Roosevelt—intermingle with the thoughts of contemporaries, both famous and ordinary, to provide an insightful look at the spirit that continues to drive us."

TO KILL A MOCKINGBIRD, Harper Lee, read by Sissy Spacek (Harper Audio/Caedmon)

"To Kill a Mockingbird was one of the most-requested yet unavailable audiobooks—until this past year. Author Harper Lee personally approved the fine performance of Sissy Spacek, who deftly gives voice to this Pulitzer Prize-winning story of racial tension in a small southern town. Now in its fifth printing, and featuring the novel's original 1960 artwork, the audiobook's strong sales are a testament to customer demand and Caedmon's great media outreach, including ample coverage in People, Entertainment Weekly, and Variety."

WORLD WAR Z, Max Brooks, performed by Alan Alda, Mark Hamill, Carl Reiner, and a Full Cast (Random House Audio)

"An oral history of the fictitious zombie wars has been preserved by Max Brooks in World War Z. The audio features a full cast that includes Hollywood luminaries Alan Alda, John Turturro, and Rob Reiner; each of the novel's characters offers up first hand experiences of those apocalyptic years. Random House kicked off promotion of the program at Comic Con, offered Web samples of the variety of narrators, and targeted thousands of Zombie fans with emails and Web-based promotions."
